

MARK MUELLER

As a 1978 high school freshman Mark Mueller built his first solar panel. Out of college he worked on the Space Shuttle. Later he designed graphics supercomputers. His personal interest of designing and building beautiful green homes predominated in 2000 when he started High Energy Solar - now completing its Emerald City project. Here technical experience blends with artistic to make a luxury home targeted to be one of the country's first ten LEED-H platinum homes.

ARIANTHÉ STETTNER

Ariantché Stettner has been a Routt County resident since 1971. After a successful career as a nationally known textile designer, she shifted her energies to weaving the fabric of it forward" full service Real Estate model in the area. A 30 year resident of the Yampa Valley, Tom has a direct connection to the pulse of its people and is well known as an innovator and consummate student of the Real Estate Business.

IRENE NELSON

Irene came to Steamboat in 1970 after a 15 year career as a Martha Stewart type of interior designer on the North Shore of Chicago. Since Interior Design was not even a category in the phone book, she supplemented her income with ski instructing for 32 years, the usual Steamboat waitress jobs and whatever. She is now the principal designer in her own firm with 4 other designers who are all much less opinionated and

JAN COHEN

A resident of Steamboat Springs for 33 years, Jan has been building strawbale houses, casting concrete and plastering since 1996. Earlier, she worked with concrete and welding along with a sampling of other trades. She took a detour for a decade practicing massage and development movement, before returning to the building crafts. Jan was the 2006 recipient of the New Pioneers Green Building Award and has been learning how to chase after the sheep along side her border collie 'Drift'.

ADAM WRIGHT

Adam Wright, Associate AIA and LEED Accredited Professional, has been with Kelly & Stone Architects (KSA) in Steamboat

New Orleans, Louisiana, where he earned a Masters of Architecture in 1998.

SCOTT SCHERER

Scott Scherer of Scherer Building Corporation (SBC) is an American Lung Association certified HealthHouse Builder, EEBA (Energy and Environmental Building Association) Master Builder and has been studying building science and implementing it for over 20 years.

DAGNY MCKINLEY

Dagny McKinley graduated with an MFA from the Jack Kerouac School of Disembodied Poets and Writers. She has since been published in several Colorado magazines. Her fiction work has appeared in numerous journals community, serving seven years on the Steamboat Springs City Council. Stettner recently retired as Executive Director of Historic Routt County! to pursue graduate studies in Historic Preservation.

AUTHOR BIOS HomeLink Winter07

MARRA BENNETT

I have been in Steamboat for two years. I manage the building supplies salvage yard, Home Resource. Between Home ReSource and volunteering for our parent non-profit, Community Alliance, being on the board of Sierra Club, and attending Green Team and Yampa Valley Recycles meetings, I keep pretty pressed for time, and have learned a great deal about this community and our environmental issues.

TOM WILLMAN

Tom Willman has been artfully putting people and contracts together for the last 18 years as a realtor in Steamboat Springs, and for the past 4 years as the founder and CEO of Time Value Real Estate, the most progressive and only "pay easier to work with. She is co-owner, along with her daughter, Cindy Arnis, of the White Hart Gallery.

LUCIA NOVARA

Lucia Novara earned a B.A. in journalism at Michigan State University. She has written for Transitions Abroad Magazine, Get Lost Magazine, and currently writes an online beer review column. She also works for the American Indian College Fund as the Special Events Coordinator.

ANGELA ASHBY

Angela Ashby is a Broker Associate with Prudential Steamboat Realty. She is also Steamboat's first certified EcoBroker®. She completed her EcoBroker designation in order to integrate her passion for sustainability with her real estate career. She has been in Colorado 16 years and has been in sales for over 18 years. She loves skiing, biking, hiking, reading and living in Steamboat Springs.

Springs since January of 2007. Prior to KSA, Adam focused on civic scale architecture working for AR7 Architects and AndersonMason-Dale Architects and residential architecture with RLC Design. Adam received his Masters in Architecture from the University of Colorado-Denver. His passion for progressive design and sustainable building drive his interests in architecture.

TAYLOR WEBB, LEED AP

Taylor Webb has been with Andrews & Anderson Architects, PC since 2003, and has over 8 years of professional experience. He has worked on many of the firm's public projects including Steamboat Springs Community Center, Granby Town Hall, and Ignacio Library. Webb is deeply committed to sustainable architecture and, as Project Architect, was integral in helping to design many of the environmentally sensitive features of the Steamboat Springs Community Center. He is a graduate of Tulane University in and anthologies. She currently works as a freelance copywriter for Cigar Graphics in Steamboat Springs.

SARAH FOX

Born and raised in Steamboat Springs, Sarah began gaining construction experience at a very young age while working with her father at Fox Construction. Since graduating from Colorado State University's Construction Management program, Sarah has been one of the leading forces in turning Fox Construction towards green building and educating Steamboat Springs' locals and tourists on the possibilities of living a greener lifestyle. She was the first LEED Accredited Professional in Steamboat and hopes that someday she can help make the Yampa Valley a more sustainable place to live for future generations to come.